a UNCP Career Center publication

Volume 1, Issue 1

August 2010

Business while you do your... Business

After all, employers are looking for great multi-taskers.

First and foremost, welcome back! The Career Center staff is excited to have you on campus for the Fall 2010 semester.

The Job Johnny is making its debut this year to provide you with quirky, but useful career information. Have a question about specific career fields, majors, or internships? Not sure how to land that first job? Wondering what it takes to get into graduate school?

Or do you want to know how much money the President of the United States makes each year?*

Drop us a line and tell us what you would like to know more about, and we'll distribute it to a bathroom stall near you!

Send comments, questions, or personal stories to career@uncp.edu with "Job Johnny" in the subject line.

* The President Obama's salary is currently set at $400,000 a year, excluding expenses and other perks.

Making extra cash: Easy as 1-2-3

A quick guide to work-study and on-campus student employment.

Now finding an on-campus job at UNCP is easy as 1-2-3! All vacant positions are posted in our database, Brave Opportunities for your convenience. It only takes three simple steps to get started:

1. Log onto The Career Center web site at <http://uncp.edu/career>.
2. Click on the gold button that says, "On-Campus Student Employment" on the right side of the screen.
3. Click on the links (2) under "Information for Students." A step-by-step guide and a direct link to our database is listed here.

We'll be chatting about student employment on August 24th and 31st in The Career Center.
