The Department of English and Theatre educates students and serves the region and the academy through teaching and research in the liberal arts. English and Theatre cultivates insightful readers, articulate writers and speakers, expressive performers, and critical thinkers. English and Theatre faculty work to improve literacy, to develop innovative pedagogy, to enhance and showcase creative work, and to expand and transmit disciplinary knowledge.

Through sustained development of students' critical thinking, reading, and writing, the General Education composition sequence lays the foundation for future success. Offerings in literature and performance broaden and enrich students' perspectives. Graduates of our programs become successful as professionals, graduate students, citizens, leaders, and life-long learners in a diverse global community.

The Department offers majors in English, English Education, and Theatre and related minors and concentrations. Undergraduate majors prepare students for North Carolina Teacher Licensure in Secondary English and add-on licensure in English as a Second Language. Graduate Programs in English prepare students for advanced licensure and other professional endeavors.

The Department offers distinctive, realistically conceived, and well-executed programs for (1) the English major; (2) the student seeking North Carolina Teacher Licensure in English, grades 9-12 (program approved by NCTE), or ESL Add-On Licensure; (3) the Theatre major; (4) the General Education student, served by a strong Composition program and a wide choice of courses; (5) the Education major seeking an academic concentration in English; (7) the student majoring in another subject who wishes to develop a minor in an area of English and Theatre or simply to choose an elective or two; and (8) the in-service teacher, or college graduate with a background in English or a related discipline, seeking post-graduate work in English Education. The Department recognizes that each program has a distinctive philosophy and specific objectives, which are made clear to students involved in each program.

The Department office offers information about advisement and screening procedures for English majors, teacher licensure candidates in English, and Theatre majors. Also available is information about the academic concentration in English and minors in Creative Writing, English, Literature, Speech, TESOL, Theatre, and Writing. These are offered to all students enrolled at the University.

Pembroke Magazine, housed in the Department of English, Theatre, and Languages and founded in 1969 by the late Norman Macleod while he was at UNC Pembroke, focuses on North Carolina, national, and international writers. It publishes both beginning and established writers.

The University Theatre, a performance program housed in the Givens Performing Arts Center, provides a practical laboratory for the theoretical and artistic components of the Theatre Program of the Department.

The Department recommends that all of its majors study a foreign language throughout their college careers; six semester hours (or equivalent competency) are required.

A grade of C (2.0) in both ENG 1050 (Composition I) and ENG 1060 (Composition II) is prerequisite to all literature and language courses at the 2000 level and above except for THE 2500 (Introduction to Theatre). All full-time students enroll in Composition I during their first semester of full-time study and continue consecutively thereafter until they successfully complete both ENG 1050 and ENG 1060.
