

Holiday decorations abound on campus

Photo by Wade Allen

The University Center Christmas Tree, assembled near the entrance to the cafeteria, brings holiday spirit to campus. The tree, decorated by GPAC Assistant Director David Thaggard, consists of many large ornaments, poinsettia blossoms and red ribbon wound through the branches.

Photo by Wade Allen

The GPAC box office is decorated with garland, lights and bows. GPAC Assistant Director David Thaggard decorated GPAC and the U.C. for the holiday season, hanging garland along stairways and hand-making each bow.

Photo by Wade Allen

Brightly-colored ornaments packed into a box were hung on the GPAC Christmas tree by University theatre students. The ornaments included poinsettia pieces, gold angels, glass balls, Mardi Gras masks, golden ornamental instruments and assorted plant sprigs.

Photo by Wade Allen

Dozens of lit holiday garland usher in the holiday season as they hang from each staircase in the U.C. The garland features pine cones and hand-made bows that match the ones adorning the U.C. Christmas tree.